How my understanding and wisdom increased. I was fond of reading, a habit I had cultivated since my childhood. This opportunity to work in a book shop was a blessing to a man who always desired to acquire more knowledge, to discover and enrich his mind with wisdom and understanding of human nature, to know the mysteries of earth and the universe. To understand the problems mankind had faced since the inception of life on this planet. The earth was once renewed by God as he wanted to destroy evil. God advised a holy man Noah and gave him advance warning that the entire planet would be destroyed by a flood. Only Noah and his family would be saved provided they obeyed and trusted in God. God ordered Noah to build a large ark that could accommodate all types of animals along with his family in it. Thereafter it rained torrentially and the whole earth was submerged by the flood and all life was destroyed except for Noah's ark that carried all load, the entire species of birds and animals in it. I just wondered how it could happen. Comet shoe maker In 2005 there was news of the comet, Shoe maker, striking the planet Jupiter. I just thought about the after effects of this strike, how terrific and devastating it would be! Would the Hubble telescope capture these pictures and make it public in a new book? It made me realize the similarity between the story of Noah's ark and the comet strike. I concluded that these large floods on the earth were caused by comets, asteroids that hit the earth in the past. I came across a title called 'Maya prophesy'. I opened it, read some paragraphs and found it exciting. In the course of my free time I finished reading the whole book. What I learned was amazing! Mayans or Aztec had more advanced civilizations than the Europeans. Mesoamerican considered each individual had twenty fingers (including toes) so they used twenty digits to do their calculation while European and the Asians still used ten digits. This helped them to solve more complicated mathematical problem by doing these calculation they were able to predict the future and the past more accurately. Their astrologers had advance knowledge of mathematic and astronomy seated at the market place, predicted weather and guided the farmers when to cultivate crops and when to harvest it. Their forecast was mostly correct and these learned astrologers turned fortune tellers also guided the people in many other aspects of their life. They were time keepers of family histories and their day began at the sun set, night time was considered to be time of the gods. They constructed similar pyramids like the Egyptians as their temples of worship, the top most part of the pyramid where the chief priest worshiped; the sun's rays fell perpendicular in the center at the top opening of the temple. These pyramids still found in parts of Mexico are architectural master pieces. Their libraries maintained historical records rooted into the past BC. Their historical record showed that our earth was destroyed by floods and renewed three times in the past BC. Here I thought was a similarity between Noah flood and their record. The comets and asteroids hit the earth and caused large floods, destroying life. This might explain what caused their extinction or destructions of large creatures like dinosaurs that inhabited the earth. There was sudden impact not only on the ground level but also in the atmosphere. The climate change occurred many times and life on earth evolved again.
