Handbook of Research on Innovation and Entrepreneurship (Research Handbooks in Business and Management series) (Elgar Original Reference) David B. Audretsch, Oliver Falck, Stephan Heblich, Adam Lederer

This path-breaking handbook analyzes the foundations, social desirability, institutions and geography of innovation and entrepreneurship.

Leading researchers use their outstanding expertise to investigate various aspects in the context of innovation and entrepreneurship such as growth, knowledge production and spillovers, technology transfer, the organization of the firm, industrial policy, financing, small firms and start-ups, and entrepreneurship education as well as the characteristics of the entrepreneur.

There is much in this handbook that will prove to be informative and stimulating, especially for academics and post-graduate students in economics and management. Those starting a PhD in innovation or entrepreneurship will find this book essential reading.
