FED UP ?

Information on this cd is invaluable towards the conviction and arrest of a thief that is entering property whilst the owner is away.

It involves setting up easily available covert devices that are cheaply available, high quality video and audio devices all date and time stamped film that can be used in a legal manner, recording all movement or activity inside the property and incorporates a simple to fit device that will send a cell phone call out to up to 9 persons assigned to the device.

Please note that before buying this precious cd you will need a land line at the premises free of a fax connection while active and recipient cell phones switched on and ready to take a call when someone enters the property -usually receiving a call within 30 secs of a break in, enabling immediate investigation. No need for IP Cameras or anything sophisticated -simple to install with a screwdriver and a couple of small common tools.

Why install highly technological equipment at a large expense when for a small price you can have a set up that is completely covert - noone will know about it and you can set it up yourself without any help.

The instructions of the devices described in this cd have been translated and are made clear in plain English language. These same devices that many people buy everyday usually come with broken English style instructions, which are usually relatively useless, rendering the fitter unable to have video surveillance performing in a manner that conforms to required playback quality.

You cannot get these files from anywhere else on the internet.

Foreign, translated instructions that usually come with these covert devices are usually distressing and time consuming.

You should swiftly fly through the information in this cd to install the five ingenious devices within a couple of days.

Date and time stamp files need to be fed into these covert devices, usually every time they are used and can be very difficult to do without this cd.

All devices are small and domestic looking and links are available on this cd for purchasing them. They are available at many stores in the USA. Do not under estimate the potential of these devices. They perform at high quality with audio.

This cd will set you up so that either the thefts cease or an arrest will be imminent.
